

The image features a dense, three-dimensional network of glowing blue cubes of various sizes, interconnected by a web of thin, dark lines. The cubes are illuminated from within, casting a bright blue light. A large, prominent cube is positioned in the lower right foreground, showing its internal structure and glowing core. The background is dark, making the glowing cubes stand out. The overall composition suggests a complex, interconnected system or network.

Tack!

